

TALK UP TAIHAPE Newsletter

Taihape Community Development Trust - February 2019

WELCOME to this first issue of Talk Up Taihape for 2019! We are already into the second month of the year and have seen some great events in Taihape.

The A&P show in January was a good event and the weather played ball. The kids had fun with all the activities available and the shearing competitions provided great entertainment. The Waitangi Celebrations in February were held at Memorial Park and even though the temperature had dropped, the festivities were a success.

We're also very excited about Gumbboot Day in March, mark it in your calendar, Saturday the 23rd from 10am till 3pm. Every year we strive to make it BIGGER & BRIGHTER than ever before and we are certainly on our way to achieve that this year. We have an Arts and Crafts Market, Bouncy Castles for all ages, and workshops where you are the participant. We also have demonstrations, which are great to watch, glorious food stalls, and a host of support from local groups, businesses and the New Zealand Defence Force, including a visit from The Royal New Zealand

Airforce....More to follow! Finally, we are hosting the World Boot Throwing Championships which are being organized by the New Zealand Boot Throwing Association (NZBTA). This event is open to all (more information on page 6) and attracting both international & domestic media attention.

This year's sponsors for the Taihape Gumbboot Day® Family Festival include our Gold Sponsor: Palmerston North Airport, who are running the 'Fly Palmy Have a Go Gumbboot Throwing Competition'. Our Silver Sponsor is Byfords Construction 2014 Ltd and our Bronze Sponsor is Matt Hobbs Plumbing & Draining Ltd.

A Big THANK YOU!

Where would we be without you?

Great volunteers like you never want anything back in return but are always ready to do great things. Thanks for volunteering. Thank you very much! You are indeed the reason for our successful Christmas Lunch. You are always able to perform great things for our community!

In this day and age where greed is making everyone focus on getting and receiving, a few angels like you are still committed to giving and helping. The Taihape Community Development Trust does rely on volunteers and donations and believes it's kindness that makes events like the Christmas Lunch a success.

From the decorators, the cooks, to the cleaners, the carers, the wonderful donated items and the servers. WOW WOW WOW.

Finally, did you know this is our 12th Issue of the Talk Up Taihape Newsletter in its current form? We were able to kick it off because of a grant from Pub Charity; help with printing from Rangitikei District Council; and a grant towards a printer from Four Regions Trust. Not long now before we'll have to stand on 'our own two feet'. Which does mean that expenses will increase. As a consequence, we will be increasing the cost involved for advertising (from 1 April). More on this can be found on page 16.

GRANTS FOR SMALL BUSINESS

With a title like "ACC sets aside $22 million to help prevent workplace injuries before they occur" how can you ignore it. (NZ Herald, 10 January 2019)

Data from ACC shows there were 80,000 work-related claims from small and medium-sized businesses in 2018. The funding – $4.4 million per year over five years – will come in the form of grants and subsidies which, from February, small businesses can apply for.

"The subsidies are designed to support small and medium-sized businesses to invest in training, equipment or advisory services that will have a direct impact on the health and safety of workplaces," ACC Minister Iain Lees-Galloway told the Herald.

As well as providing subsidies, the fund will provide grants. A grant can be awarded to help create new technology which will positively impact workplace safety. The subsidy can be claimed by a small business to reimburse the cost of a health and safety training course for staff.

ACC Minister Lees-Galloway said ACC will have two funding rounds a year for the grants, in February and September, and three for the subsidies (February, June and September). Funding for the scheme will come from ACC's levy accounts.

The Complexity of Female Hormones

From puberty, to periods, to menopause hormones can pose a challenge for many women throughout their lives. You may be all too familiar with symptoms such as painful, heavy or irregular periods, premenstrual mood swings and bloating, hot flushes...and the list goes on. Female hormonal conditions are complex and frequently frustrating for women. While hormonal fluctuations have traditionally been blamed, there is more to this story – many other factors also affect the subtle balance required for optimal hormonal harmony.

Riding the Hormonal Roller Coaster?

Do you feel you have no control over the ups and downs of hormonal change you ride through each month? Your symptoms may be related to one of these conditions:

- Premenstrual syndrome (PMS): includes symptoms of breast tenderness, migraines and mood changes prior to your period.

PMS may be linked to lowered progesterone levels and often made worse by stress.

- Endometriosis and fibroids: women with these conditions often experience heavy, painful periods, pain throughout the month, bloating, and sometimes weight gain
- Polycystic ovarian syndrome (PCOS): missing periods, facial hair growth, sugar cravings, weight gain and difficulty conceiving are commonly experienced, due to higher than normal testosterone and lower progesterone levels.

Musicians Distort the Melody

While different conditions are influenced by subtle changes in hormone levels, there are many other factors that also play a role. Likened to musicians in the orchestra playing out of tune, some of these come from your body

- such as inflammation (e.g. from joint pain or digestive imbalance),
- being overweight, and
- feeling stressed.

The environment you live in can also play havoc with hormones. Toxins are virtually unavoidable and many, such as bisphenyl-A or 'BPA' (found in plastics, the lining of tins, and even on shopping docket) have hormone-like effects and may negatively affect your hormonal balance.

For more about understanding regarding your hormones, valuable dietary sources and the key nutrients required to help you function at your best, make an appointment today.

Additionally, there are discussions occurring regarding the shelter in the Outback and the fencing of the Dog Exercise Park on Robin Street.

Currently The Taihape Community Board is working with Carla Woollaston on the Generation Taihape – Tile Project- started at the Taihape A and P Show. We will then begin working on alleyway photo boards, beautification of the Weka Street Extension, Dog exercise signage, as well as other smaller projects. This year we also supported Taihape Playcentre in gaining funding from The Rangitikei District Council to complete their playground project.

Our first meeting for the year is on Wednesday 13th February at 5.30 pm at Council Chambers in the Taihape Town Hall.

Taihape's Arcadian Singers

have commenced rehearsals for their new 2019 programme. They concluded last years concerts with a Carol Service at Mangaweka and at the Taihape Community Christmas function held at the TAS hall.

This versatile choir sings a wide range of music from classical to modern. Now they are preparing for a concert in May, which will include music by New Zealand composers David Hamilton and Dorothy Buchanan. It also includes a folk song arranged by Helen Gordon.

The Arcadians have been invited to join Bay of Plenty Choirs to sing

Haydyn's great Oratorio "The Creation". This will take place in August and will include performances in Taupo and Rotorua. It is a tribute to the choir that they have been invited to take part in this prestigious performance.

New singers are welcome to join the choir. There are no auditions and experience is not necessary as training will be given. Rehearsals are held on Mondays at 7pm in St.Davids Church lounge, Huia Street.

For further information contact the conductor, Helen Gordon, Telephone 06 3881611

Invitation to the Taihape community to come along to “What Matters to You? Day”.

This Day will focus on what happens when/if/as someone gets older.

Did you know that 65+ years old make up over 15% of the total population in Taihape, the only other group bigger than this is the Under 5 years at 17% of the total population at 2013 Census.

We have invited organisations you can talk with so that you can learn what health and social services are provided in Taihape before you need them – and what might need to be provided in the future. This is a chance for you to say what support is needed.

We will look at Will’s, Power of Attorney, Health Care Plans, Kiwi-saver, driving, NZ Superannuation, IRD, Easie living, Rangitikei District Council, Healthy Families, Older and Bolder – Visiting and Travel, Housing, Brain Injury, technology corner – what do you want to know about?

The silver wave can be a great stage of life – but we need to plan to live well in this stage of life. To do this we need to be informed earlier. We want to find solutions for our community from our community.

Talk up Taihape

Welcome to my February Update on the current Real Estate Market.

I trust you have all enjoyed the warmer weather and I am sure it is having an impact on the number of sales we are currently experiencing in Taihape. We have been extremely busy at our Taihape Property Brokers Office with buyers from out of town still struck by our relatively 'low prices'.

We also have more first home buyers looking to purchase here and enquiries from investors has also picked up. If we had a development for retirees here I am sure everything would sell off the plans very quickly so call me if you know of anyone on the 'flats' who wants to sell!

Corelogic's Latest Report

Corelogic is the largest provider of property information, analytics, property-related risk management & geospatial location intelligence in Australia and New Zealand, their data and analyses are relied upon to identify and manage growth opportunities, improve performance and manage risk at all levels - from government and business to consumer.

Here is their latest report on what's happening around NZ.

According to December QV House Price Index, the year finished off in a similar way to how it started out with inconsistent growth across many of our main centres and essentially no growth in our two largest cities Auckland and Christchurch. Dunedin finished the calendar year with 11.2% growth, easily the strongest of our main centres, followed by Wellington at 7.8%

Hamilton and Tauranga epitomised the word 'inconsistent' throughout the year with quarterly growth varying between zero and 3% in Hamilton and from -1% to +3% in Tauranga. Final growth for the year was 5% in Hamilton and 3.9% in Tauranga.

The year end results didn't exactly come as a surprise with market conditions remaining relatively consistent leading into the holiday break. Both interest rates and lending criteria are a key influence on the property market and there was no major volatility in either factor at the end of the year.

The loosening of the LVR limits on the first of January may see a slight lift in demand but we're not expecting it to have a significant impact.

The Tax Working Group's final report is inching closer and it appears likely they will recommend an extension of Capital Gains Tax. This, on top of the ring-fencing of tax losses for rental property will be of significant interest to property investors.

As it is though, property investors have remained relatively active in the market over the last few years despite many other changes reducing yield and prospective capital gains.

2019 could be the real test for their resolve but as long as property values don't decrease we don't believe property investors will be rushing to the exit door. Even in Auckland, where yield is low and capital gains have been hard to find, investors share of sales remained consistent at 39% throughout 2018.

The figure is the same in Hamilton although worth noting the significant drop in investor activity after 2016 after peaking at 50% when the previous Auckland specific LVR restrictions which drove Aucklanders down the motorway, were extended to the rest of NZ.

In the Capital, investor activity actually increased toward the end of the year with over 40% of sales going to the group in Q4.

As mentioned earlier, capital gains are more prevalent in Wellington where the market is still experiencing low levels of listings whilst strong labour supports those buyers who remain in the market. Source Corelogic
